LogTag USB Data Logger XOSLT7106

Description

LogTag USB Data Logger The UTRIX-16 stores real-time temperature readings over a measurement range of -25°C to +70°C (-13°F to +158°F), displays user-configurable alerts, and comes with an integrated, long-life USB connector. The UTRIX-16 is enclosed in the same robust and durable polycarbonate case common to other LogTag products. The LogTag USB Data Logger automatically generates a PDF report and an Excel data file - no special download software required. If you only need to monitor one or two fridges or freezers, then this USB model provides all the features of the standard LogTag without the need to buy a LogTag Interface. (If you are monitoring more than that then the standard LogTag is more cost effective.) You need to install a copy of the free LogTag Analyser software on your Windows PC to program the logger prior to use. Then, to retrieve results you can either view the logger as a USB drive and open the automatically-generated PDF report, or use the LogTag Analyser program to see the graph (with pan and zoom capabilities) The automatically generated PDF make this an ideal logger for tracking your cold chain transport. Pack a USB LogTag with your goods and the receiver can plug it into any PC (no software needed) and download the report
